CompuGroup Medical acquires AmbulApps

Koblenz - CompuGroup Medical acquires AmbulApps GmbH, a specialist in digital anamnesis tools. Founded in Neuss in 2015, the company organizes, digitizes and structures the collection of data from and about patients. CompuGroup Medical will integrate AmbulApps' applications into its portfolio of solutions and further develop them.

AmbulApps offers solutions for digital patient information, anamnesis in the waiting room, home visits, the creation of treatment plans and the documentation of medical interventions. Data is stored in existing systems as documents and structured information. This reduces workload and optimizes information systems, especially in practices that were previously mostly paper-based. AmbulApp's many years of experience in the field of physician, clinic and document management software and a large network of partners form the basis for a powerful, legally compliant software solution.

"With the acquisition of AmbulApps, we once again underline our commitment to provide our customers in the healthcare sector with innovative technologies," explains Dr. Ulrich Thomé,
